St. James's December 3.

THE following Addreſs was preſented to his Majeſty by Dr. William Daws the Preſident, and the Fellows of the College of Phyſicians, introduced by his Grace the Duke of Shrewsbury, Chamberlain of his Majeſty's Houſhold.

To the KING's moſt excellent Majeſty,

The Humble Addreſs of the Preſident, and College of Phyſicians, London.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE the Preſident, Elects, Cenſors, Fellows and other Members of your Majeſty's Royal College of Phyſicians, moſt humbly beg Leave that among the reſt of your loyal Subjects, We may, with Hearts full of Joy and Duty, preſent ourſelves to your ſacred Majeſty, to congratulate your moſt auſpicious and peaceable Acceſſion to the Imperial Crown of theſe Kingdoms.

Which we are more eſpecially bound to do, as we are immediately under your Majeſty's moſt gracious Protection, being Members of a Society, founded and continually favoured by your Majeſty's Royal Progenitors.

Our Society had the Honour to be eſtabliſhed about Two hundred Years ago, by your Majeſty's Royal Predeceſſor King Henry the Eighth of Glorious Memory, for the better regulating the Practice of Phyſick in theſe great Cities where the Royal Family, the Nobility, and principal Gentry of the Nation do uſually reſide. And as our learned Predeceſſors, deſervedly Famous throughout all Europe for their great Diſcoveries and Improvements in Phyſick, have in their ſeveral Ages abundantly acquitted themſelves of the great Truſt repoſ'd in them, ſo we aſſure your Majeſty, that it ſhall be our utmoſt Endeavour to tread in their Steps, and if poſſible, to exceed the great Example they have ſet us.

Your Majeſty is a Prince of that conſummate Wiſdom Magnanimity and Goodneſs, that we doubt not but your Majeſty will favour and protect a Society ſo uſeful to the Publick; and as 'tis indiſpenſably our Duty, we ſhall be ever ambitious to expreſs the higheſt Regard to your Majeſty's ſacred Perſon and the moſt conſtant and ſteady Zeal for your Majeſty's Service and Government.

May your Reign over us be long, proſperous, and glorious; Victory the inſeparable Attendant of your Arms; May his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, with your Crown inherit your Virtues, and this People never want a continued Succeſſion of Monarchs, deſcended from your Royal Loins, to fill the Britiſh Throne.

Given under our College Seal, the Seventh of October, 1714.

St. James's December 3. The following Addreſſes have been preſented to his Majeſty.

An humble Addreſs of the Proteſtant Diſſenting Miniſters of the ſeveral Denominations in the County of Wilts, in the Name of themſelves and their reſpective Congregations; preſented to his Majeſty by Dr. Edmund Calamy, introduced by the Right Honourable Mr. Vice-Chamberlain.

An humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Juſtices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Clergy, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Clare; preſented to his Majeſty by the Right Honourable the Earl of Sunderland, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

Both which Addreſſes his Majeſty was pleas'd to receive very graciouſly.

Conſtantinople, Oct. 7. O. S. The Apprehenſions of a Rupture between this Court and the Republick of Venice have been renewed here, upon the Port's cauſing the Roads and Bridges to be repaired in the Country about Salonichi and Lariſſa, the erecting Magazines of Proviſions and Ammunition there and at Negropont, (for tranſporting part of which Stores from hence ſeveral Veſſels are employed) the ordering the Turkiſh Merchant Ships which uſe the Trade to Ægypt to be here this Winter, and the ſending Orders for the Removal of nine or ten Chambers of Janiſaries from Choczin to Negropont. Upon theſe Grounds 'tis conjectured, that the Sultan's Deſign is to attack the Morea the next Spring: Tho' ſome ſay the Grand Vizier is againſt a Rupture, and think the Port will hardly venture upon a War at this Juncture.

Venice, November 17. N. S. Letters from our Fleet give an Account, that Signior Delfino Providetore-General, has taken a View of the Iſlands belonging to this Republick, and that he is alſo taking a View of the Towns and Forts, in order to the providing them with all things neceſſary for their Defence, in caſe they ſhould be attacked. The extraordinary Preparations of the Turks by Sea and Land render this Precaution neceſſary; the rather becauſe they are making great Magazines in divers Places of Romelia, Theſſaly and Negropont. Men are kept at Work in our Arſenal with all poſſible Diligence, to finiſh ſeveral Ships of War of the Line which are on the Stocks. The Officers of the Land Forces are raiſing Recruits.

Stockholm, November 13. 'Tis adviſed from Careſcroon, that 5 or 6 Ships of the Squadron commanded by Admiral Watrang were come in thither to refit, having received much Damage in the late Tempeſtuous Weather; but that Admiral with five Men of War continues Cruiſing between Riga, Revel, and Gotland. The Squadron under Vice-Admiral Lillie continues ſtill in its former Station, off Orgrund in the Bothnick Gulph, and is ordered to remain there as long as the Froſts will permit, to prevent any Attempt which the Enemy might make to land on that Coaſt: The laſt Letters from the ſaid Squadron ſay, that by reaſon of the late ſtormy Weather, they had not been able to get any certain Intelligence whether there be ſtill any Muſcovite Troops on the Iſle of Aland or not. General Meyerfeldt is not yet ſet out for Pomerania, becauſe there is hitherto no Advice of his Majeſty's being come into Germany: Tho' the the Meeting which that General had last Week with the principal Burghers of this City, in order to dispose them to advance immediately 50000 Rixdollars for the King's urgent Occasions, had not the desired Effect; yet upon a publick Declaration made last Sunday by the Princess and the Senate, that whoever would forthwith pay in such a Sum as they might themselves compute their next Years Contributions will amount to, would not only at this Juncture do most acceptable Service to his Majesty, but should likewise be allowed an half per Cent. per Month till the time prescribed by the King for the last Payment of the said Years Taxes, a great many both of the Nobility and Burghers have actually this Week advanced their Contributions, and particularly the Countess Piper paid 2000 Rix-Dollars. So 'tis reckoned that when General Meyerfeldt goes over, he may carry Remittances with him for 100000 Crowns. The Princess and Senate have also this Week published a Placart, to make known what Funds are by the King's express Command appropriated to the use of the Bank; and Assurances are given in his Majesty's Name, that be the Straits of the Government never so great, none of those Funds, nor any Mony in the Bank, shall ever hereafter be touched. The Regiment of Dalcarlia is now come hither, so that with the Guards there are at present upwards of 3000 Men Quartered in this City.

Vienna, November 21. N. S. The 16th Instant six Swedish Gentlemen came to the Post-house in this City and having staid only while they could change their Horses, proceeded immediately on their Journey. M. Listernhoek has made all the Inquiry he could, and by the Descriptions of their Persons, thinks it very probable the King was among them; which is the general Opinion here, but as yet no body knows it with any Certainty. We have certain Advice, that 300 of his Swedish Majesty's Soldiers are come to Cronstat in Transylvania, and are to be followed by about 1000 more, who are to march in the like Bodies, and to follow one another at proper Intervals for their better Subsistance, according to the Route settled for them. Mr. Jefferies the British Minister, designs to set out from hence the 23d Instant, in order to repair to his Swedish Majesty in Pomerania, or where-ever else he shall first appear in Publick.

Hamburg, November 30. N. S. Letters from Stralsund give the following Particulars of the King of Sweden's coming thither. His Majesty having secretly left his Retinue in Walachia, took his way Post by Vienna and Cassel, accompanied only by Lieutenant Colonel Duringh and two Servants. At Cassel he eat in a Publick Ordinary at the Common Table, where among others was a Swedish Colonel named Hagge, who did not discover the King in his Disguise, but at his Majesty's Request procured from the Landgrave a Passport for himself and Companions as Swedish Couriers: The Landgrave on that Occasion asked the Colonel whether the King of Sweden was not one of them, it being rumoured that his Majesty would make his Journey incognito; the Colonel answered that he was not, and that he knew his Majesty well: The King, without seeing the Landgrave, pursued his Journey by Zell and Hanover, and so by Danebourg, Demith, Gustrou and Tribbesee, to Stralsund, where he arrived the 22d Instant two Hours before Day-light. His Majesty went to General Ducker's House, and then laid aside his sad-coloured Coat, and black Periwig, which he had worn to disguise himself on the Road. He was obliged to have his Boots cut off, his Legs being swelled with riding so great a Journey in Fifteen Days: And one of his Legs being hurt likewise by a Fall from his Horse, a Surgeon was called to dress it. The next Day his Majesty finding himself well enough, appeared abroad in a blue Suit, which has been his constant Habit. His Majesty holds frequent Conferences with the Generals Welling and Ducker, who are reported to have different Sentiments; the first being said to advise the King to stay at Stralsund, and thence to dispatch Orders frequently to Sweden; while the other is of Opinion, that his Majesty would do better to pass over to his Kingdom, and inform himself of the true State of Affairs there, that he may take proper Measures on the Spot for reforming all Abuses that may have crept into the Administration, and give Orders for covering the Country from all Attempts of the Muscovites during this Winter-Season; which done, his Majesty may return to Pomerania when all is ready for acting on this side. Tho' it be not known yet what Determination his Majesty will take, it appears most likely, that he will stay in his German Provinces, because General Lieben, who on the 24th was dispatched to Stockholm, to acquaint the Court and Senate with his Majesty's Arrival, carried Orders with him for the speedy Transportation of 4000 Horse from Schonen to Pomerania, with which, and the 3000 already there, and the Foot making 17 or 18000 Men, 'tis supposed his Swedish Majesty will think himself strong enough to march to Holstein.

Copenhagen, December 1. N. S. In the Night between the 27th and 28th of last Month, an Express arrived here from the Danish Resident at Hambourg, with Advice that a Courier from Count Van der Nath was come thither, bringing an Account of the King of Sweden's Arrival at Stralsund on the 22d past. This News was immediately dispatched to the King, who went the 27th to Fredericksberg, and returned hither the 29th, a Day sooner than otherwise he intended to have done. General Dewitz is appointed to go as his Majesty's first Plenipotentiary to the Congress at Brunswick, and is ordered at the same time to have ready his Equipage for the Army, that he may be able to serve in either Character, as occasion may require; and 'tis likely he will go first to the Army. An Express arrived last Night, with Advice, that after several Councils of War held at Stralsund, the King of Sweden had resolved to move towards Holstein, and to begin his March in a few Days; and that the Duke of Mecklenbourg has ordered Stores of Provisions to be got together in his Country for the use of the Swedish Army.

Hambourg, Dec. 4. N. S. Our Advices from Stralsund tell us, that the King of Sweden passes the Mornings in Conferences, and the Afternoons in reviewing his Troops. The Dutchy of Pomerania has granted him a free Gift of 100000 Crowns. The Swedish Regiments are to be Recruited and new Cloathed. On the 28th past, his Majesty was at Grypswalde to take a Review of one of his Regiments which is quartered there, and at his return passed over into the Isle of Rugen on the like Business. As soon as the News of the King of Sweden's Arrival reached the Court of Denmark, Orders were dispatched to the Generals who command in Holstein, to put that Dutchy and that of Bremen into a State of Defence, and to get the Magazines well stored: His Danish Majesty is expected in Holstein the end of this Week. 'Tis advised from Dresden, that the Landgrave of Hesse Cassel being informed it was apprehended in Saxony that after the Arrival of the King of Sweden he would lend his Troops to his Majesty to be employed in making an Invasion into that Electorate, and that Orders were thereupon given to some Saxon Troops to file towards the Frontiers with a Train of Artillery for defending the Passages, his Highness has written to assure the Regency of that Electorate, that there is no cause for any such Apprehensions, and that he he is far from having the leaſt Thought of engaging in an Affair ſo prejudicial to the Peace of the Empire. Theſe Advices from Dreſden add, that the King of Poland was expected there from Warſaw, but that the certain time of his coming was not known.

Liege, Nov. 30. N. S. Count Wells, the Imperial Miniſter, having called together the States of this Principality the 28th Inſtant, notified to them Yeſterday, that the Emperor his Maſter did then Reinſtate the Elector of Cologn Prince of Liege in the Poſſeſſion of all the Territories of Liege and of the County of Loos, purſuant to the Treaties of Peace. Whereupon the Privy Council appointed by the ſaid Prince, conſiſting of ſeven Perſons who were all of his Privy Council when he retired from this City, aſſembled for the firſt time to take the Adminiſtration into their Hands. This done, Count Wells took leave of the Dutch Governor of the Citadel, and to Morrow he ſets out for Bruſſels, thence to proceed by Antwerp to the Hague.

Hague, Dec. 7. N. S. The 5th Inſtant the States of Holland and Weſtfriſeland began their ordinary Aſſembly here, upon which it was expected that the Nomination of the Ambaſſadors of this Republick to the King of Great-Britain would have been made Yeſterday, but we do not hear that it is yet done. The ſaid States have under Deliberation, the Diminution of the Taxes which during the late War were laid upon the Lands of this Province. Monſieur Rigoine is come hither from France, to take care of the Intereſts of the Houſe of Chaalons, in relation to the Succeſſion of the late King William as Prince of Orange, and has preſented a Memorial to the States-General on that Subject. Count Wells, who has reſided during the late War as Stadholder on the Part of the Emperor at Liege, is expected here in a few Days, and will after a ſhort Stay ſet out from hence for Vienna. The Earl of Strafford is gone to Utrecht and Amſterdam, and is expected back here in a Day or two. The French Forces employed on the Canal and Port of Mardyke, are newly reinforced with ſix Regiments from the Frontiers of Germany. 'Tis adviſed from Italy, that the Venetians are arming by Sea and Land, for the Defence of the Morea, if the great Preparations of War which are making by the Turks ſhould be imployed againſt that Country; and that the Knights of Malta are providing with all Diligence for the Defence of their Iſland, in caſe the Turks ſhould turn their Arms upon them. Letters from Vienna of the 24th paſt, give an Account of the Lord Cobham and Mr. Secretary Stanhope's Arrival there the 22d.

Bruſſels, Dec. 8. N. S. General Cadogan arrived here three Days ago from Antwerp, and aſſiſted Yeſterday and this Morning at the Conferences uſually held on the ordinary Affairs of the Spaniſh Netherlands. Count Koningſeck, the Imperial Plenipotentiary, is alſo expected this Evening from Antwerp. The Emperor having reſigned the Adminiſtration of Liege, and abſolved the States of that Country and the Chapter from their Oath of Fidelity to him, Count Wells who was Adminiſtrator there in his Imperial Majeſty's Name, is arrived here: The Occaſion of his paſſing this way, is to confer with Count Koningſeck upon a Diſpute ariſen between thoſe of Liege and thoſe of Limburg, concerning ſome Duties of Tranſito levied by the latter on the Merchandiſes of the former, which Difference Count Wells is charged to adjuſt. M. Peſters, Intendant for the States-General at Ipres, is come hither by Order from his Principals, to aſſiſt their Miniſter in the Conferences here: He is likewiſe directed to furniſh the Dutch Deputies at Antwerp with ſuch Informations as they ſhall deſire of him relating to the Diſtrict under his Direction.

Hague, Dec. 11. N. S. The 8th Inſtant Baron Heims the Imperial Miniſter was in Conference with the Deputies of the States-General, on the Affair of the Barrier, and is ſaid to have demanded the immediate Evacuation of the Towns and Provinces of Luxembourg and Limbourg to the Imperial Troops, which were ready to take Poſſeſſion of them. Count Rechteren, and M. Geldermalſen, two of their Highmightineſſes Deputies at Antwerp for ſettling the Barrier, are expected from thence in a Day or two. M. Stockum, Reſident of the King of Denmark, has communicated to ſeveral of the foreign Miniſters and to the chief Members of this State, the Treaty concluded between the Duke Adminiſtrator of Holſtein and Count Steinbock, upon the admiſſion of that General with the Swediſh Army into the Town of Tonninguen; the Original of which Treaty was found by the Danes when they took that Town, and is now at Copenhagen. The Nomination of the Ambaſſadors of this Republick to the King of Great-Britain, has been put off to the 14th or 15th Inſtant.

St. James's. November 29. His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint his Grace Charles Duke of Bolton, to be Warden and Keeper of the New Forreſt in the County of Southampton, and of the Duckoy there, and of the Mannor and Park of Lindhurſt, and the Hundred of Rudbergh.

His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint Collonel William Southwell to be Captain of the Company of Foot-Guards armed with Battel-axes, who are to attend the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland as his Guard.

St. James's, Nov. 30. This Day Monſieur Bonet de St. Germain, Reſident from the King of Pruſſia, delivered his Credential Letter to his Majeſty at a private Audience. He was introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Viſcount Townſhend, one of his Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, and conducted by Sir Clement Cottrell, Maſter of the Ceremonies.
